Salvia Divinorum: Salvia Divinorum is an amazing herb, this rare plant has been used for centuries by the Mazatec Indians to aid in healing and for spirit journeys. It is available in many forms including raw organic leaf, tincture, or a very powerful standardized extract. This page could not accurately describe all of the reasons that make salvia such a remarkable plant, but a wealth of information can be found online. There are many websites devoted to salvia and its many qualities, such as erowid.org and the online encyclopedia Wikipedia has a very informative entry on salvia divinorum.

Here at Purple Sticky, we produce an extremely high quality standardized extract. Our exclusive Atomix standardization is the key to what we think is the finest salvia extract on the market. Unlike some less than reputable companies, our extracts have a measured amount of the active component Salvinorin-A. This produces a top-notch, consistent product that your customers demand. Salvia extracts are available in strengths ranging from 20Atomix (which contains 20mg of Salvinorin-A), all the way to our 160Atomix (which contains 160mg of Salvinorin-A). Each strength is now available in both one gram, and half gram packages, and comes in a convenient pog that can be re-sealed.

Our grade A Organic salvia leaf is just that, Salvia Divinorum leaf. No extra chemicals or pesticides have been added to these amazing leaves. They are carefully dried, to insure the highest quality.

Liquid Salvia Divinorum Tincture is also available in two ounce, one ounce, and half ounce bottles. This Tincture is another high quality product, and each bottle comes with an eyedropper top to make measuring easier.

Due to the potential for misuse, we request that any product containing salvia not be sold to anyone under the age of 21.
